NOTICE OF INTENT TO SEEK THE DEATH PENALTY

Pursuant to the requirements of 18 U.S.C. § 3593(a), the United States hereby gives notice that it believes that the circumstances of this case are such that, in the event that the defendant DENNIS CYRUS, JR. is convicted of a capital offense relating to the deaths of Joseph Hearns, Randy Mitchell and Raymond Jimmerson, and AQUIL H. PETERSON is convicted of a capital offense relating to the death of Joseph Hearns, a sentence of death is justified and that the United States will seek the death penalty. Specifically, the United States will seek a sentence of death for DENNIS CYRUS, JR. for Counts Eight, Ten and Eleven, which charge murder in aid of racketeering under 18 U.S.C. § 1959(a)(1), and will seek a sentence of death for AQUIL H. PETERSON for Count Eight, which charges murder in aid of racketeering under 18 U.S.C. § 1959(a)(1).

As to DENNIS CYRUS, JR., the Government proposes to prove the following factors as justifying a sentence of death for the offenses charged in Counts Eight, Ten and Eleven of the Indictment, the allegations of which are fully realleged and incorporated herein by reference:

I. Count 8: The Murder of Joseph Hearns

A. Statutory Proportionality Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)
(1) The defendant intentionally killed the victim. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(A).

(2) The defendant intentionally inflicted serious bodily injury resulting in death. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(B).

(3) The defendant intentionally participated in an act, contemplating that the life of a person would be taken or intending that lethal force would be used in connection with a person, other than one of the participants in the offense, and the victim died as a direct result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(C).

(4) The defendant intentionally and specifically engaged in an act of violence, knowing that the act created a grave risk of death to a person, other than one of the participants in

1		the offense, such that participation in the act constituted a reckless disregard for human
2		life and the victim died as a direct result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(D).
3	B.	Statutory Aggravating Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3592(c)
4		(1) The defendant committed the offense in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved
5		manner in that it involved torture or serious physical abuse to the victim (Title 18, United
6		States Code, Section 3592(c)(6)).
7		(2) The defendant committed the offense after substantial planning and premeditation to
8		cause the death of a person or commit an act of terrorism (Title 18, United States Code,
9		Section 3592(c)(9)).
10	C.	Other, Non-Statutory, Aggravating Factors Identified under 18 U.S.C. § 3593(a)(2)
11 12		In addition to the statutory aggravating factors set forth above with regard to Count
12		Eight, the Government will rely on the following non-statutory aggravating factors
13		specific to that offense to justify a sentence of death:
15		(1) Victim Impact Evidence. The defendant caused injury, harm, and loss to the family
16		of Joseph Hearns because of the victim's personal characteristics as an individual human
17		being and the impact of his death upon the Joseph Hearns family. See Payne v.
18		Tennessee, 501 U.S. 808, 825-26 (1991).
19		(2) Participation in Other Serious Crimes of Violence. The defendant participated in
20		other homicides in addition to the murder of Joseph Hearns, including the murders of
21		Randy Mitchell and Raymond Jimmerson, and participated in the attempted murder of
22		Marcus Atkinson.
23		(3) Contemporaneous Criminal Conduct. In addition to being convicted of the
24		murders of Joseph Hearns, Randy Mitchell and Raymond Jimmerson, the defendant was
25 26		engaged in other criminal conduct, included but not limited to enterprise crimes and drug
26 27		offenses as alleged in the Indictment.
27 28
2 0

(4) Future Dangerousness of the Defendant. The defendant represents a continuing danger to the lives and safety of other persons. The defendant is likely to commit criminal acts of violence in the future that would constitute a continuing and serious threat to the lives and safety of others, as evidenced by, at least, one or more of the following:

(a) Continuing Pattern of Violence: The defendant has engaged in a continuing pattern of violence, attempted violence, and threatened violence, including, at least, the crimes alleged against defendant in the Indictment.

(b) Lack of Remorse: The defendant has demonstrated a lack of remorse for the capital offenses committed in this case, as indicated by defendant's statements and actions during the course of and following the offenses alleged in the Indictment.

(c) Low rehabilitative potential: The defendant has demonstrated a low potential for rehabilitation as evidenced by his longstanding involvement in criminal activities, including drug trafficking and violence.

(d) Membership in a criminal enterprise: The defendant has demonstrated an allegiance to and active membership in the Page Street Gang, a criminal enterprise falling within the definition of 18 U.S.C. § 1962(d).

II. Count 10: The Murder of Randy Mitchell

A. Statutory Proportionality Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)

(1) The defendant intentionally killed the victim. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(A).

(2) The defendant intentionally inflicted serious bodily injury resulting in death. 18U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(B).

(3) The defendant intentionally participated in an act, contemplating that the life of a person would be taken or intending that lethal force would be used in connection with a person, other than one of the participants in the offense, and the victim died as a direct result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(C).

(4) The defendant intentionally and specifically engaged in an act of violence, knowing that the act created a grave risk of death to a person, other than one of the participants in the offense, such that participation in the act constituted a reckless disregard for human life and the victim died as a direct result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(D).

B. Statutory Aggravating Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3592(c)

(1) The defendant, in the commission of the offense, or in escaping apprehension for the violation of the offense, knowingly created a grave risk of death to one or more persons in addition to the victim of the offense. 18 U.S.C. § 3592(c)(5).

(2) The defendant committed the offense after substantial planning and premeditation to cause the death of a person or commit an act of terrorism (Title 18, United States Code, Section 3592(c)(9)).

C. Other, Non-Statutory, Aggravating Factors Identified under 18 U.S.C. § 3593(a)(2)
 In addition to the statutory aggravating factors set forth above with regard to Count Ten, the Government will rely on the following non-statutory aggravating factors specific to that offense to justify a sentence of death:

(1) Victim Impact Evidence. The defendant caused injury, harm, and loss to Randy Mitchell's family because of the victim's personal characteristics as an individual human being and the impact of his death upon the Randy Mitchell family. See Payne v. Tennessee, 501 U.S. 808, 825-26 (1991).

(2) Participation in Other Serious Crimes of Violence. The defendant participated in other homicides in addition to the murder of Randy Mitchell, including the murders of Joseph Hearns and Raymond Jimmerson, and participated in the attempted murder of Marcus Atkinson.

(3) Contemporaneous Criminal Conduct. In addition to being convicted of the murders of Joseph Hearns, Randy Mitchell and Raymond Jimmerson, the defendant was engaged in other criminal conduct, included but not limited to enterprise crimes and drug offenses as alleged in the Indictment.

(4) Future Dangerousness of the Defendant. The defendant represents a continuing danger to the lives and safety of other persons. The defendant is likely to commit criminal acts of violence in the future that would constitute a continuing and serious threat to the lives and safety of others, as evidenced by, at least, one or more of the following:

(a) Continuing Pattern of Violence: The defendant has engaged in a continuing pattern of violence, attempted violence, and threatened violence, including, at least, the crimes alleged against defendant in the Indictment.

(b) Lack of Remorse: The defendant has demonstrated a lack of remorse for the capital offenses committed in this case, as indicated by defendant's statements and actions during the course of and following the offenses alleged in the Indictment.

(c) Low rehabilitative potential: The defendant has demonstrated a low potential for rehabilitation as evidenced by his longstanding involvement in criminal activities, including drug trafficking and violence.

(d) Membership in a criminal enterprise: The defendant has demonstrated an allegiance to and active membership in the Page Street Gang, a criminal enterprise falling within the definition of 18 U.S.C. § 1962(d).

III. Count 11: The Murder of Raymond Jimmerson

A. Statutory Proportionality Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)

(1) The defendant intentionally killed the victim. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(A).

1 (2) The defendant intentionally inflicted serious bodily injury resulting in death. 18 2 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(B). 3 (3) The defendant intentionally participated in an act, contemplating that the life of a 4 person would be taken or intending that lethal force would be used in connection with a 5 person, other than one of the participants in the offense, and the victim died as a direct 6 result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(C). 7 (4) The defendant intentionally and specifically engaged in an act of violence, knowing 8 that the act created a grave risk of death to a person, other than one of the participants in 9 the offense, such that participation in the act constituted a reckless disregard for human 10 life and the victim died as a direct result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(D). 11 Statutory Aggravating Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3592(c) Β. 12 (1) The defendant, in the commission of the offense, or in escaping apprehension for the 13 violation of the offense, knowingly created a grave risk of death to one or more persons 14 in addition to the victim of the offense. 18 U.S.C. § 3592(c)(5). 15 (2) The defendant committed the offense after substantial planning and premeditation to 16 17 cause the death of a person or commit an act of terrorism (Title 18, United States Code, 18 Section 3592(c)(9)). 19 C. Other, Non-Statutory, Aggravating Factors Identified under 18 U.S.C. § 3593(a)(2) 20 In addition to the statutory aggravating factors set forth above with regard to Count 21 Eleven, the Government will rely on the following non-statutory aggravating factors 22 specific to that offense to justify a sentence of death: 23 (1) Victim Impact Evidence. The defendant caused injury, harm, and loss to Raymond 24 Jimmerson's family because of the victim's personal characteristics as an individual 25 human being and the impact of his death upon the Raymond Jimmerson family. See 26

27 28 Payne v. Tennessee, 501 U.S. 808, 825-26 (1991).

(2) Participation in Other Serious Crimes of Violence. The defendant participated in other homicides in addition to the murder of Raymond Jimmerson, including the murders of Joseph Hearns and Randy Mitchell, and participated in the attempted murder of Marcus Atkinson.

(3) Contemporaneous Criminal Conduct. In addition to being convicted of the murders of Joseph Hearns, Randy Mitchell and Raymond Jimmerson, the defendant was engaged in other criminal conduct, included but not limited to enterprise crimes and drug offenses as alleged in the Indictment.

(4) Obstruction of Justice. The defendant committed the offense with the intent to prevent the victim from, or retaliate against the victim for, providing information and assistance to law enforcement authorities in regard to the investigation or prosecution of the commission or possible commission of another offense.

(5) Future Dangerousness of the Defendant. The defendant represents a continuing danger to the lives and safety of other persons. The defendant is likely to commit criminal acts of violence in the future that would constitute a continuing and serious threat to the lives and safety of others, as evidenced by, at least, one or more of the following:

(a) Continuing Pattern of Violence: The defendant has engaged in a continuing pattern of violence, attempted violence, and threatened violence, including, at least, the crimes alleged against defendant in the Indictment.

(b) Lack of Remorse: The defendant has demonstrated a lack of remorse for the capital offenses committed in this case, as indicated by defendant's statements and actions during the course of and following the offenses alleged in the Indictment.

(c) Low rehabilitative potential: The defendant has demonstrated a low potential for rehabilitation as evidenced by his longstanding involvement in criminal activities, including drug trafficking and violence.

(d) Membership in a criminal enterprise: The defendant has demonstrated an allegiance to and active membership in the Page Street Gang, a criminal enterprise falling within the definition of 18 U.S.C. § 1962(d).

As to AQUIL H. PETERSON, the Government proposes to prove the following factors as justifying a sentence of death for the offense charged in Count Eight of the Indictment, the allegations of which are fully realleged and incorporated herein by reference:

I. Count 8: The Murder of Joseph Hearns

A. Statutory Proportionality Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)

(1) The defendant intentionally participated in an act, contemplating that the life of a person would be taken or intending that lethal force would be used in connection with a person, other than one of the participants in the offense, and the victim died as a direct result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(C).

(2) The defendant intentionally and specifically engaged in an act of violence, knowing that the act created a grave risk of death to a person, other than one of the participants in the offense, such that participation in the act constituted a reckless disregard for human life and the victim died as a direct result of the act. 18 U.S.C. § 3591(a)(2)(D).

B. Statutory Aggravating Factors Enumerated under 18 U.S.C. § 3592(c)

(1) The defendant committed the offense in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved manner in that it involved torture or serious physical abuse to the victim (Title 18, United States Code, Section 3592(c)(6)).

(2) The defendant committed the offense after substantial planning and premeditation to cause the death of a person or commit an act of terrorism (Title 18, United States Code,

Section 3592(c)(9)).

C. Other, Non-Statutory, Aggravating Factors Identified under 18 U.S.C. § 3593(a)(2)
 In addition to the statutory aggravating factors set forth above with regard to Count
 Eight, the Government will rely on the following non-statutory aggravating factors
 specific to that offense to justify a sentence of death:

(1) Victim Impact Evidence. The defendant caused injury, harm, and loss to Joseph Hearns' family because of the victim's personal characteristics as an individual human being and the impact of his death upon the Joseph Hearns family. See Payne v. Tennessee, 501 U.S. 808, 825-26 (1991).
